== Deacon Don's Dish ==

The Diaconal Journey of Don Moore

I am very honored to share my journey with you. As you all know, I wasn't born a Catholic. I converted to the Catholic faith in 1987. My calling to be a deacon began in Germany in the early 90's. I was in the Air Force when a visiting priest from Cameroon was observing our parish for a few months. He noticed that I was serving as a sacristan, a choir member, an extraordinary minister of the Eucharistic, and was constantly encouraging people to join ministries. He spoke with me and planted a mustard seed in my heart, with these words. "You are going to be a great Deacon!" After every mass I attended, he would remind me of our discussion about becoming a Deacon. I finally told him, "I didn't know what a deacon is and told him that there were other men worthier and holier than me, go talk to them." He would not take this for an answer. After a 6th discussion, he added, "I am going to write a letter of recommendation for you to enter the diaconate program." I didn't take him seriously, but a month later I received a letter from him and a second letter was sent to the military diocese. HE WAS SERIOUS! I thought to myself, I'm just a mechanic of airplanes, and a convert. Why would God want me? There was a symposium about a month later on the base, where I entered a talk for men to consider joining Holy Orders. There was a deacon from a parish somewhere in the USA who spoke about the duties and calling to the diaconate. I found this talk interesting, but I felt I didn't know enough about the faith to even attempt to seek it further. I put this idea in the back of mind to ponder later.

A few years later, I was assigned to Ellsworth Air Force Base, and began to pray and discern if the diaconate was really calling me. I soon joined the lay ministry program in this diocese back in 2002. I retired in 2005 from the Air Force and moved to Texas where I gained employment. In 2011 I was feeling an even greater nudge to consider being a Deacon. Even though work, wife, kids, and volunteering at church kept me very busy, I still made time for God in my life, to include listening to Him. After all these years God showed how patient he is. One Sunday in 2012, I was sitting in the last pew of our parish in Waco, Texas, when that familiar voice came about. God asked me if I was finished directing my life, so that He could guide me where I was actually needed. I trusted God and asked him to take my life and mold me. During the seven-year diaconal formation process in Austin, Texas, I continuously prayed in front of the tabernacle asking Jesus to give me an answer on whether or not the diaconal ministry was what I should do. I wanted to be sure that this was what he wanted. A faint voice constantly answered me saying, "yes, guide my people." On March 2019 I laid prostrate on the floor in front of the altar at St. William church, being ordained with 29 other men who went through classes with me. I learned that being like a Martha was good, but being more like Mary was the better route to take. I needed to be attentive, listen to Jesus at work in my life. I was ordained a Deacon (servant of all) in the Austin Diocese to be a bridge between God's people and His Church, to guide others towards the path of righteousness and truth about God, the Church and the faith. I thank God daily for letting me serve him.

~ Deacon Don
