Faithful Citizenship "Our culture ... has become hardened to many who cry out. We idolize the strong and beautiful and tend to disregard the weak and imperfect. In our own lives, have we been programmed not to call for help ourselves or to look past those who do? ... May each of us learn (or re-learn) how human it is to ask for help without shame when we need it. ... And may we always be ready to respond to cries that come our way." Learning to Cry, Life Issues Forum, Dec. 19, 2014, Tom Grenchik, USCCB Secretariat of Pro-Life Activities, www.usccb.org (From www.rapidcitydiocese.org/family-life-ministries-social-justice/social-justice-commission)

The Texas Cattle Rancher said, "I'll tell ya what son, my ranch is so big that I can get in my pickup truck and start out at the western entrance to my ranch and drive straight east all dog-gone day and by nightfall I still have not reached the eastern entrance to my ranch". The South Dakota Farmer scratched his head and spit out his chewin' tobacco and replied, "Ya know....I used to have an old pickup truck just like that".
