Faithful Citizenship

"Catholic social teaching is a central and essential element of our faith. Its roots are in the Hebrew prophets who announced God's special love for the poor and called God's people to a covenant of love and justice. It is a teaching founded on the life and words of Jesus Christ, who came "to bring glad tidings to the poor . . . liberty to captives . . . recovery of sight to the blind"(Lk 4:18-19), and who identified himself with "the least of these," the hungry and the stranger (cf. Mt 25:45). Catholic social teaching is built on a commitment to the poor. This commitment arises from our experiences of Christ in the eucharist." "As the Catechism of the Catholic Church explains, "To receive in truth the Body and Blood of Christ given up for us, we must recognize Christ in the poorest, his brethren" (no. 1397)."

A LITTLE LAUGH...

Only a handful of people have ever learned the true identity of the men behind the modern-day invention that forever changed (and improved!) our driving experience. The four Goldberg brothers, Lowell, Norman, Hiram, and Max, invented and developed the first car air conditioner. On July 17, 1946, the temp in Detroit was 97 degrees. The 4 brothers walked into old man Henry Ford's office and sweet-talked his secretary into telling him that four gentlemen were there with the most exciting innovation in the auto industry since the electric starter. Henry was curious and invited them into his office. They refused and instead asked that he come out to their car. They persuaded him to get into the car, which was about 130 degrees, turned on the air conditioner, and cooled the car off within minutes. The old man got very excited and invited them back to the office, where he offered them $3 million for the patent. The brothers refused, saying they would settle for $2 million, but they wanted the recognition by having a label, "Goldberg Air Conditioner" on the dashboard of each car in which it was installed. Mr. Ford was more than just a little protective of the brand-name he had spent a lifetime building. There was no way he was going to put Goldberg's name on the dashboard of two million Ford autos. They haggled back and forth for 2 hours and finally agreed on $4 million and just their first names shown. And so to this day, all Ford air conditioners show - Lo, Norm, Hi and Max - on the controls.

An Update from the Hope For New Life (HFNL) Jail Ministry

HFNL has been a continual weekly presence in the Pennington County Jail (PCJ) since July 2006. We are always received by the inmates with gratitude, respect, and a deep spiritual hunger. Allow us to share with you the experiences of two of our ministry members, Fran Solinsky and Bill Gradoville, who jointly conducted one of the inmate groups for women in August. Fran tells us: "This meeting had to be one of the most blessed times with the Holy Spirit I have had at the jail since I started 7 years ago. I do not have words to adequately describe how uplifting and inspiring this gathering was for us. The ladies were very open with sharing their deep hurts and sorrows about the poor choices some of them had made. Two ladies openly cried about how they have been hurt and how they have hurt others. At other times we were all laughing about what had been shared. Thank you Jesus for a beautiful evening with the ladies at PCJ." Bill's comments from the same group: "I, too, could feel the presence of the Holy Spirit last night as several of the women poured out their souls to the group. Hopefully, the pain and the advice (experience?) these women shared will help the other women in the room to follow Jesus and partake of His 'life-giving water', so they will no longer be thirsty. God is great." To learn more about our ministry, please contact Bill Gradoville (341-2721). If you would like to join our ministry prayer partners, contact Jennifer Shama jennifershama@midco.net. You are always welcome to attend our monthly HFNL meetings every 3rd Monday of the month at Catholic Social Services at 6:30 pm.

ONE MORE LITTLE LAUGH...
